

Lewis Has No Suggestion On How To Avoid New Strikes

Washington, March 7 (AP) — John L. Lewis told the Senate Labor committee today that he has no suggestions "at this time" on how to prevent another nation-wide coal strike.

The United Mine Workers' leader made that statement in answer to a question by Chairman Taft (R-Ohio). Lewis suggested to the committee that the miners' differences with coal operators could be settled if the government "would cease using a blackjack."

In answer to Taft's query whether he has any suggestions for preventing a miners' strike, Lewis said:

"No, I don't. That's a matter of litigation before the court. I doubt if I can make any contribution at this time."

Refuses Answer

The mine leader referred to an action pending in Federal Court, as to whether he has the right to terminate his union's contract with the government, which has been operating the mines.

Taft asked what would happen to the mines and production when the government relinquishes control of the pits June 30.

"I don't have the answer to that, Senator," Lewis replied, "because I don't have power of attorney." He did not elaborate, although presumably he meant he lacks authority to speak for the miners without specific instructions.

Lewis said the coal operators "are very happy with things as they are." He said they are clearing 45 cents a ton after all charges.

Cites "Ill Treatment"

"That's about $250,000,000 profits each year — about one million dollars a day each operating day," he said. "In addition, they charge off another million a day. That makes it extremely profitable." He said the miners only want to share in the profits.

Lewis said the "effect of recent intrusion of government has been to arrest collective bargaining in the coal industry."

"What's the matter with the coal industry? Nothing's the matter except the ill treatment being accorded the employees," the miners' chief told the Senate Labor Committee.

"That (ill treatment) is a personal matter between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America. And the United Mine Workers of America could settle that with the coal operators if the government would cease using a black-jack to beat the miners into submission while the coal operator takes the profits," Lewis asserted.

Most bituminous coal mines have been in government possession since last May 22.

Lewis said it is "hypocrisy to give workers the right to form unions while limiting use of the strike weapon."

Lewis calmly read part of a prepared statement. Then, summing up, the AFL leader said his mine union joined him in opposing labor legislation—"this attempt to gild the economic life in America."

Checks And Balances

He said the miners favor keeping the free enterprise system, and he said "punitive, regulatory laws" would destroy this system.

"I think the question now before Congress runs to the question of the retention of our form of government, of our conception of liberty, of our freedom of individual action, our incentive system, the investment of private funds," Lewis suggested.

He said labor organizations are "the inherent checks and balances in the economic system and if you limit their efficiencies then their contribution to the economic situation is restricted and the economic system will suffer."

Postpone Hearing On Manslaughter Count To Saturday

Myers, Hanover, on December 26, has been postponed until Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder announced today. The hearing was scheduled for 10 a. m. this morning.

An automobile operated by Ingram struck a jeep being operated by Miss Myers, on the Littlestown-Hanover highway, and in the crash Miss Myers was fatally injured and four others received less serious injuries. ## EAGLES MARK 40TH BIRTHDAY; INITIATE 116

Gettysburg Aerie No. 1562, Fraternal Order of Eagles opened its 40th Anniversary celebration at its home on Chambersburg street Thursday night with the initiation of a class of 116 candidates, and with guests present from other Eagle aeries in Philadelphia, Lansdale, York, Hanover, Littlestown, McSherrystown, Waynesboro, Carlisle, Harrisburg, Frederick, Hagerstown and elsewhere.

The initiatory work was in charge of the John W. Heller, Jr. degree team of York, and the principal speaker of the evening was L. Ellis Wagner, York fire chief, and past state president of the Eagles. The degree team, named in honor of John W. Heller, Jr., past grand worthy president, has been state champion for 11 years. It was organized in 1931.

Only two of the eight remaining active charter members were able to attend the meeting at which these eight charter members were honored with gifts from the aerie. They were James B. Aumen, for 37 years secretary of Gettysburg aerie, and Benton D. Gilbert. Illness prevented others from attending.

The aerie sent flowers on the occasion of the opening of its anniversary celebration to other charter members and "old timers," who are ill. Four members, Harry Gilbert, Charles McDannell, Charles D. Trosch and Samuel Strausbaugh, are in Warner hospital. Those ill at home who received flowers are Francis I. Smith, George McClellan and Donald C. Stallsmith.

Mr. Wagner paid high tribute to the charter members. He declared that the eight men represented many years of loyal effort and service to the Eagles, an organization he characterized as outstanding because "it isn't selfish enough to look forward to the benefits for its own members, but has gone on and fought the great humanitarian fight for benefits for the average man."

Cites "Equality"

"Equality is one of the things which stands out in this organization," Mr. Wagner continued. "These men of 40 years standing in the Eagles have made possible for you the same benefits that they have struggled long years to reach. "Equality, however, works two ways. You are going to be expected to give to the other fellow what you expect him to give to you. If you do that in the Fraternal Order of Eagles, you can rest assured that your membership will be prized, and you will be a real Eagle."

"From a financial and social standpoint, we are the biggest organization in the world today. Only a united people can build a united and prosperous aerie such as you have here. I wish to say to you new members, you can make this aerie a finer, bigger and broader organization and a better influence in the community by rubbing shoulders with the other fellow, giving a kind word or a kind deed and by observing the spirit of Eagledom."

Officers on Team

The degree team was in charge of Captain Ralph L. Busler, a past president of the York aerie. Those who took the parts of officers on the degree team were: president, J. W. Heller, 3rd; vice president, Steward D. Sent; junior past president, John I. Markley; chaplain, Albert E. Leese; conductor, C. E. Hassler; secretary, N. G. Baublitz, secretary of the York aerie; treasurer, John C. Becker, trustees, Paul Smith, Sterling Ruth and Charles Wertz.

Those on the degree team who served as guards were Harry Shultz, Herbert Rawlinson, James Wertz, Richard Fink, Richard Mummert, Lester Stump, Thad Coons, Elmer Whitmore, Harry Schwartz, Ernest W. Barnhart, Donald Bricher and Ralph Boyer. Hans Schmidt was at the piano.

Among the guests present was Bernard Selby, Littlestown, district director of the organizing department. The meeting was opened and closed by C. David McCullough, president of the local aerie. After the meeting, a buffet supper was served. Members of the degree team were entertained with a turkey dinner at the Marine restaurant.

Dr. Karl S. Hoffmeister began the dental examinations Thursday morning. He will continue these examinations every Thursday morning until all pupils enrolled in the odd grades have been examined.

Both medical and dental examinations are being conducted in the respective professional offices until such time as an adequately equipped school health room is made available.

Lags Previous Drive

The amount up to today was running somewhat behind the amount that had been turned in at the same time last year, but campaign officials believed that the poor driving conditions over roads throughout the county was preventing the 250 solicitors who are conducting the house to house canvass from completing their work as quickly as last year.

Currently seeking $12,440, the county Red Cross will retain nearly two-thirds of the sum in the county for use here. The remainder will go to the American Red Cross to help in keeping open the Red Cross centers for soldiers and sailors overseas and in the U. S., for maintaining services to veterans in hospitals and similar activities.

The money used locally will go toward the needs of the county including home service, nutrition and other programs of the Red Cross. A program of water safety and similar activities is scheduled for this coming summer.

Much of the money used locally goes to aiding veterans and their families at the present time, according to the monthly reports of the home service activities.

Dutch Marines Seize Ship Despite American Protest

Aboard the U.S.S. Martin Behrman, Batavia, March 7 (AP)—Sixty Dutch marines, sailors and civil police took physical possession of the American liberty ship Martin Behrman and her disputed cargo today shortly after Capt. Rudy Gray had announced his intention to sail for the United States.

Gray, charging that control of the ship had been wrested from him "forcefully by armed men" who overpowered his mate when the latter attempted to stop them, immediately left the vessel. The Dutch—with the aid of tugs—moved her at once to another dock preparatory to removing the cargo, which was loaded in Republican Java in defiance of Dutch regulations.

The crew remained aboard under Gray's orders but refused to assist in moving the ship or discharging the cargo.

Today's developments, which followed by 48 hours a State Department protest to The Hague over the regulations under which the Behrman had been detained here, began when Gray asked the American consulate for clearance papers.

At 11:30 a. m. Gray notified the port naval commander that his ship would sail in an hour unless a written seizure order was presented. No order was presented, but a boarding party was placed aboard the vessel before the hour elapsed.

Chamber Dinner Will Be March 20

Because of a conflict in dates with previously scheduled affairs the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce March dinner meeting will be held on Thursday evening, March 20, at 6:30 o'clock at the Hotel Gettysburg. The turkey dinner had originally been scheduled for March 13.

General Williston B. Palmer, commanding general of Carlisle Barracks, the Army Information School, will be the speaker. General Palmer commanded an artillery outfit in the VII Corps, which formed the northern counter-attack against the Runderstedt winter offensive, encircled two-thirds of the Ruhr pocket, cleaned up the Harz Mountains and finally met the Russians on the line of the Mulde river.

General Palmer has received seven decorations, including three foreign medals, and wears six battle stars. He is one of the youngest officers on the Army General Staff.

Instruct 7 Nurses On Audiometer Test

Adams county's seven school nurses met Thursday in the office of the county superintendent of schools in the court house, and received instructions in the use of the new audiometer purchased recently by the county board for testing the hearing of pupils in the schools of the county.

The audiometer was demonstrated by Dr. Ralph Scafford, supervisor of special education. Methods of keeping charts were explained, and a form worked out for making reports of school nursing activities to the school districts and the county office.

The nurses also investigated several makes of portable filing cases for keeping the records of physical and dental examinations in the county, and selected one type to be recommended to school boards for purchase. A sample will be on exhibit in the county office.

Correction of physical defects were discussed and the nurses voiced their appreciation for the cooperation of parents and pupils, pointing out a large percentage of corrections have already been made.

and of Adams county. He has been a tower of strength to the various masonic bodies in Gettysburg. The members of Zembo know how much his work and interest in behalf of the Shrine, and in support of the charitable work of the Shrine, has meant to Shrinedom in central Pennsylvania.

"This stalwart has never wanted to be thanked for anything he ever did. The happiness he achieved throughout his life in doing things for others and for the organizations he has served so long and so well in official capacities apparently was compensation enough."

MOOSE LODGE BACKS HIGHER TEACHER PAY

The Gettysburg Moose lodge went on record at its regular meeting Thursday evening as favoring increased salaries for the state's school teachers.

A resolution adopted by the members pointed out the danger to the school system of continued low salaries for teachers and urged the state legislature to adopt bills increasing the amount of subsidy to the local school systems so that the salaries of teachers could be increased to a minimum of $2,400 a year.

The resolution pointed out that while the organization was not concerned with political matters, the need for school teacher increases "has long since passed the political stage." Because the best education possible is needed for the county's youth, the resolution pointed out, salaries should be sufficient to bring the best possible teachers into the system. At present, according to the resolution, the number of young men and women preparing to be teachers has dropped to a low that will not fill the ranks of teachers under normal depletion, and the county already has 25 teachers serving who have not received desired training or certification to be teachers.

The lodge also voted a $100 donation to the Adams county Red Cross and set up a nominating committee to report at the March 20 meeting. Members of the nominating committee include the officers of the lodge and William E. Knox, William Conover, Ralph Johnston, Donald McSherry and William Holtzworth. Governor Merle Baumgardner presided at the session.

The first in a series of Cub Scout training programs for parents was held Thursday evening in the social rooms of St. Francis Xavier Catholic school with Field Executive Sneed Clift in charge, the committee was told. The second training period will be held next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the social rooms. Dr. Joseph H. Riley, chairman of the committee presided at the meeting.

TEMPERS FLARE, CHARGES FLY AT LABOR HEARING

Washington, March 7 (AP)—Temper flared, witnesses shouted "liar" at each other, and spectators boomed and laughed intermittently in a hearing before a house subcommittee investigating charges of labor racketeering in Philadelphia.

At one point during yesterday's lengthy session, three sworn witnesses and one unsworn spectator tried to testify at the same time.

The subcommittee was taking testimony on a dispute that has tied up the Philadelphia wholesale produce markets on Dock street for two months.

Charges Denied
Before Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) adjourned the hearing until Monday a lot of testimony and a lot of angry words had gone into the subcommittee records.

The committee, in calling the hearing, said it wanted to learn if there had been any violations of the Hobbs Anti-Racketeering act in a dispute between Local 929, Produce, Poultry, Fish and Oysterman Drivers and Helpers (AFL) and some 200 Quaker City carlot receivers and produce merchants.

The merchants insisted union leaders, particularly President Harry Daniels, coerced and intimidated certain produce representatives. The unionists, including Daniels and Abe Goldberg, secretary-treasurer of the local, denied the charges.

Two war veterans told the committee they could not open a produce business on Dock street unless the union gave its approval. Other merchants testified that both Goldberg and Daniels twice had refused to let union members load and unload produce destined for Army and Navy installations in the Philadelphia area.

RED-HEADED WIDOW GETS THIRD TRIAL

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 7 (AP)—Twice convicted of being an accessory after the fact in the slaying of her husband, Mrs. Florence Mae Randall was granted a third trial after a Wyoming county jurist admitted he had committed three errors at the second hearing.

The 38-year-old auburn-haired widow was convicted of the misdemeanor charge last October 10.

But Trial Judge Edward F. Farr of Tunkhannock agreed with defense counsel that he had erred three times at that second trial and yesterday said: "We greatly regret it, but our feeling is, that a new trial should be granted."

Admits Three Errors
The defense claimed the court erred in not properly defining the crime of accessory after the fact, in admitting as evidence a statement by the defendant which she had not signed, and in permitting a state trooper to express an opinion as to the physical condition of Mrs. Randall.

Kenneth Ferrell, 32-year-old lumberjack, was convicted of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Charles Randall, Harvey's Lake boat concessionaire on Memorial Day, 1945. He is serving a life sentence.

Mrs. Randall also was indicted for her husband's slaying but the murder charge was never pressed.

In winning conviction of Ferrell, the prosecution charged the lumberjack was driven by "an all consuming evil passion" for the attractive widow.

"We're still on the job and will continue to be until May 5 when our 60-day notices are up," said Gerald Woerner, president of the teachers' association.

NEW LAVA FLOW FROM MT. ETNA

Catania, Sicily, March 7 (AP)—Thundering bumps and belches from Mount Etna's explosive interior during the night signalled the outpouring of a new molten flow which sent a fresh tongue of lava creeping down the volcano's northern slope today toward Randazzo.

The new stream, although moving along at better than 100 yards an hour, was slowed somewhat by flatter terrain and Randazzo, which has a population of about 14,000, appeared to be in no immediate danger.

(A dispatch to the Rome newspaper Il Momento said the lava still was about seven and a half miles from Randazzo's nearest suburbs.)

The latest outburst was from the crater at Monte Cacciatore, and came atop 36 hours of renewed activity which followed two days of quiet, during which it was believed the eruption that started two weeks ago had ceased. Aerial observation yesterday showed that the new lava was flowing atop the still smoking crust of the earlier flows.

game win streak, 63-55, though Lord dumped in 14 points. It was this same Georgetown quintet that upset Duquesne last Tuesday to end the Dukes' 19-game string and dump the western Pennsylvania five from the unbeaten ranks.

Lord has tallied 438 points in 24 games this season, five better than Elizabethtown's Frankie Keath. Keath dumped in 13 points as Elizabethtown dropped a 74-53 decision to Albright. It was Keath's last game of the season, too.

Two Pennsylvania quintets—Lafayette and Muhlenberg—both lost to New York quintets at Madison Square Garden. Lafayette lost out in the closing minutes to CCNY, 42-40, while the Mules lost out to Long Island, 60-54.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

INFLUENCE

A small dictionary, that I carry around with me, says that Influence is "action invisibly exercised." Thus the turn of the eye may be influential, or the waft of the wind, or mere words tossed into hearing. We are ever in the midst of influences of every sort, and our lives are shaped by them.

Love has its influence, perhaps to a greater degree than any other force in human life. We are influenced by what we see, by what we read, by every human contact. No influence is perhaps so lasting and fundamental as the early influence of home. I have just read a brief book by Thomas W. Lamont, which he has called "My Boyhood in a Parsonage." It is most interesting because it explains why Mr. Lamont has been able to rise to great influence and power, as one of the outstanding financial figures of his time. The home influence undoubtedly did it!

Not every boy, or girl, has had a happy early home life, but there has been created there an undying influence for good that has carried them well into a useful and happier after life. Perhaps just a mother, or a father, or sister, or brother, has worked the miracle.

There is no doubt about the fact that early home influence has had more to do with juvenile delinquency than anything else. That old adage "as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined" has a world of truth to it. The first stitch—with a knot to the thread, is what counts most.

It is interesting to note how many there have been, who became eminent, who originally came from poor families, and from obscure towns and the farm. There the influences surrounding youth are fundamental and natural. Nature itself contributes greatly. A love for simple things, and the natural creations all about, have a powerful influence in shaping the lives of youth. The very out-of-doors is a museum of wonders and revelations. Our greatest naturalists and writers have sprung from such environments.

We are tagged by influences. And they leave their mark upon our faces, hide within our thoughts and dictate our actions. They make the "good name" that "is rather to be chosen than great riches."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Things That Can't Be Helped"

If an old stone spring house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. The Meaning Of Lent

By REV. HOWARD SCHLEY FOX
Pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church

Lent is the name given to the great feast of the Church, the forty-day period from Ash-Wednesday to Easter, the six Sundays not being counted as fast days.

In origin it goes back to a very early date in the history of the Church, at first it seems to have lasted only forty hours, in commemoration of the time between the crucifixion and the resurrection, but gradually the forty hours became forty days, referring to the forty-day fast of our Lord, and recalling also those of Moses and Elijah. The name is derived from the Anglo-Saxon "lencten," meaning spring, the season of the year when the fast occurs.

In some places the fast consisted of a total abstinence from meat and wine. Generally the fast was accompanied by the cessation of every thing having a festive character and the Church services assumed a more somber aspect. Many of the Lenten observances we have inherited are merely outward forms, and do not in this day deeply affect the heart and life.

True fasting is not merely a physical exercise, such as abstaining from some kinds of food, but a spiritual exercise, a reconsecration to God, such as will not only consist in, but result in, the giving up of occupations and pleasures such as are not in harmony with the will of God and the loftiest aspirations of the soul.

Stresses Cross And Life

Lent is the Church's ancient way of stressing two things: The Cross, the monument of our Lord's sacrifice for men, and the spiritual life of the individual Christian. These are the objective and subjective emphases of Lent. The former reaches its climax in Holy Week especially Good Friday. The second is uniformly emphasized.

For all Christians the summons to the keeping of Lent, is the call to put aside the cares of physical sustenance, the preoccupations of commonplace life, the urge of acquisitiveness, the enjoyment of temporal pleasures, in order that we may scrutinize our mode of life, take stock of our spiritual resources, nourish our souls more fully on the Bread of Life, and give ourselves utterly to the adoration of God and Jesus Christ by the aid of the Holy Spirit.

This forty-day fast is the summation of our daily reckonings; it is the yearly inventory and inquisition. It is a recurrent opportunity for learning just where we stand before God, to replenish our depleted stores, to renew our spiritual strength and vigor, to attain a new vision of the Way, to experience the companionship of the Divine Presence, and to imitate more earnestly Christ, our Lord.

Lent is the monument which the Church has erected to the living memory of the greatest battle which was ever fought and won for righteousness and the more abundant spiritual life. A true Lent can only be, therefore, an intense and serious endeavor toward real spiritual growth and a profound deepening of life.

Compromise Ends Teachers' Strike

Connellsville, Pa., March 7 (P) — About 80 teachers and 3,000 pupils in 10 Dunbar township schools return today to classrooms closed for nine days by an instructors' strike for more money.

The striking teachers voted yesterday to return to work after accepting a compromise settlement plan advanced Wednesday night at a meeting of taxpayers, senior class members, teachers and school board members.

The teachers had demanded annual salary boosts of $300 which school officials said could not be financed.

These points are included in the compromise plan offered by the citizen's group: 1-board members will continue efforts to find a way to raise salaries this year; 2-the board, in cooperation with teachers and citizens, will begin work at once on a budget that will provide salary hikes for the next school year.

Backfiring Of German Truck Almost Lost Rhine Crossing

By HAL BOYLE

Miami, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Two years ago tonight a German truck backfired and almost cost the American army its first bridgehead across the Rhine, established a few hours before in a brilliant military gamble. Behind the staccato noise of one misfiring Nazi vehicle—apparently a civilian one at that—lies an unusual illustration of how slight sometimes are the influences that decide crucial battle issues fought by tired men.

It is the story—behind-the-story of how American armored infantry in the first successful invasion across the Rhine since 1805 stormed and seized the Ludendorff bridge at Ramagen, gave it up without a shot being fired at them, and then took it back again without firing a shot to win it—all in the space of a dozen hours.

Retreat Not Recorded

The surprise capture of that bridge after a brief bloody skirmish electrified the world, but I believe you will search war department records in vain for an account of how the same men retreated back over the span that night—leaving any enterprising Nazi commander free to blow it up if he chose. You won't find this because the boys on the scene up, $4-4.25. Various varieties, some no grade or size marks, or to fair qual. $1-2.25.

Market slightly stronger today, firm others. Receipts ample. Demand good. Wholesale selling prices, per pound (including commission), in Baltimore:

FRYERS, SPRINGERS AND BROILERS, 34-36, mostly 35c.

POULTRY—Colors, 40-42c, some 43c; Leghorns, 30-32c.

DUCKS—Few, 35c.

TURKEYS—Hens, few 45-48c.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Receipts, on opening rounds, rather light and trading active and fully steady with earlier this week, but with improved road conditions, incoming receipts sharply increased and late trade slow with slaughter steers and cows selling somewhat lower than early. The run made up chiefly of slaughter steers and dairy-bred cows. All interests competed for the day's receipts.

Slaughter steers active and fully steady with closing trade rather slow and price level, mostly 2c. lower. Steer division, the top price averaged 1.15 lbs.; few leads and light and mediumweight, $12-15. Medium to average-good, $15-20. Cow trading steady on opening rounds but late trade slow and all grades 5c. lower. Good young heifers, 12-15; in meager supply, $17-17.25. Bulk of the cows, common and medium, dairy-breeding, $12-14; top-medium kinds, $16. Canners and cutters, $9.50-11.50, "belly" canners, $9.

Hogs in meager supply, active and steady with closing trade rather slow and price level, mostly 2c. lower. Steer division, the top price averaged 1.15 lbs.; few leads and light and mediumweight, $12-15. Medium to average-good, $15-20. Cow trading steady on opening rounds but late trade slow and all grades 5c. lower. Good young heifers, 12-15; in meager supply, $17-17.25. Bulk of the cows, common and medium, dairy-breeding, $12-14; top-medium kinds, $16. Canners and cutters, $9.50-11.50, "belly" canners, $9.

Bulls active and steady with earlier this week. Good beef bulls largely $17-18 on head, exceptionally good yielding qualities, $20. Medium and good $15.50-16.50, light and mediumweight, $12-15. Stockers and feeders, light supply, fairly active and steady. Scattered small lots of medium and good native stocker and feeder, $15.50-16.50.

CALVES—Vealers, in increased supply, active and steady with Wednesday. Mixed lots of good and choice at $25. Common and medium, $12-18, and culls to $10, with underweights lows as $5.

EGGS—Sewer trading active and steady with Wednesday. Practical top, $28.75. All interests competed for the day's receipts. Good and choice barrows and gilts selling $18-20 lbs., $25.50-26.75; 140-160 lbs., $27.50-27.75; 160-180 lbs., $28-28.25; 180-220 lbs., $28.50-29.75; 220-250 lbs., $29-29.25; 250-300 lbs., $29.25-29.50; 300-350 lbs., $29.50-29.75; 350 lbs. up, $29.75-29.95. Good and choice, $23-23.25, heavy sows considerably lower.

SHEEP—Receipts of slaughter lambs and slaughter ewes too meager to test market. Inquiry broad and the undertone steady. Good and choice, 80-110 lbs. woolled lambs, $23.50-25.50; common and medium, $18-19.50; and culls to $12.50. Good and choice slaughter ewes, $27-28; common and medium, $4-7.50, and culls to $3.

Supreme Court Slapdown Of Lewis To Keep Peace In Mines Until Summer

CASE NOT YET OUT OF COURT; STUDY DECISION

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, March 7 (AP)—The Supreme Court slapdown of John L. Lewis appeared certain today to preserve peace in the coal fields this spring.

In all probability, the miners will stick to their jobs at least until July 1, when the soft coal operators are due to regain the federally held pits.

Taking advantage of this respite, the government is expected to redouble efforts to get Lewis' United Mine Workers and the operators into wage negotiations in the hope the mid-summer transfer will not bring another shutdown.

Not Yet Out of Court
The prime consideration is that the precedent-making coal strike case—even though Lewis and his union stand convicted of contempt—is not yet out of the courts.

It is on this fact the likelihood rests that the 400,000 AFL miners will keep on digging coal for the next three and one-half months.

Lewis, genial yet distant, would not reveal his plans at once. His lawyers could seek a rehearing. The Supreme Court seldom grants one.

Must Hold Trial
But the tribunal's 7 to 2 decision

Secretary of State George C. Marshall waves from the door of his plane as he leaves Washington for the Moscow foreign ministers conference. (AP Wirephoto)

Goldsborough, who landed down the original contempt ruling affirmed by the high court, still must hold trial on the central issue.

Did Lewis have the right to break off his contract with the government last November, thereby precipitating the 17-day strike?

So far the court has merely upheld Judge Goldsborough's use of an injunction to break the strike pending trial; and affirmed Goldsborough's guilty verdict against Lewis when—as the high court said—the union persisted in “a policy of defiance.”

“This policy,” the court ruled, “was the germ center of an economic paralysis which was rapidly extending itself from the bituminous coal mines into practically every other major industry of the United States.”

No Stoppage March 31
The decision spiked the prospect of another such stoppage on March 31, the deadline set by Lewis in ordering his men back to work last December 7, after the lower court found him guilty.

On that very date, if usual procedure holds, the Supreme Court's mandate will be served formally on Judge Goldsborough. This customarily takes 25 days. And within five days thereafter, Lewis must “unconditionally” withdraw his notice purporting to break off his contract with the government. Such a notice is the high-sign for a strike.

If he does not withdraw it, said the strongly worded opinion written by Chief Justice Fred W. Vinson, the union must pay the full $3,500,000 fine levied by Goldsborough. If he complies, the punishment is cut to $700,000 to cover the “serious threat to orderly constitutional government” already committed. In either case, the $10,000 criminal contempt fine against Lewis personally will stand.

Thus the Supreme Court did more than affirm Judge Goldsborough; it held a $2,800,000 whip over Lewis to insure that no shutdown occurs until the trial judge has decided whether such a strike is legal.

The government has not yet asked Judge Goldsborough to set a trial date; court attaches said this is the probable next step, but a spokesman for the Justice Department reported its lawyers still are busy studying the Supreme Court decision.

In view of the fact that the contempt case alone took three months to settle, despite unusual speed in getting it to the Supreme Court, it seemed unlikely to officials that the key issue will be resolved before June 1, too, undoubtedly will go to the top tribunal.

Vinson's First Big Case
That decision will determine whether the so-called Krug-Lewis agreement, signed last May between the bushy-browed union chief and the Secretary of the Interior, could be ended by the union alone as Lewis tried to do in November.

Vinson's opinion, his first major one since he became Chief Justice last June, was caustically critical of Lewis and his union. It called the UMW chief's refusal to obey Judge Goldsborough's November 18 strike-restraining order “an attempt to repudiate and override the instrument of legal government.”

The union's behavior, Vinson added, showed a “total lack of respect for the judicial process.”

Upset Key UMW Stand
The majority opinion, although it was only five to four on this point while 7 to 2 on the broad issue of contempt, flatly overruled the issue on which the UMW placed its chief reliance—the argument that the Norris-LaGuardia Act, which forbids courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes, applies to the government as well as to private employers. The court thereby upset the claim of Lewis' lawyers that Judge Goldsborough's restraining order was illegal and did not have to be obeyed. CIO and AFL alike joined in denouncing such “government by injunction.”

Vinson held that the government in running the coal mines was exercising a “sovereign function” and had full right to enjoy any interference with that function. The Norris-LaGuardia Act, the Chief Justice asserted, never was intended to apply against the government.

Justices Rutledge and Murphy each wrote strong dissenting opinions on this and other parts of the decision. Justice Frankfurter, in another opinion, dissented on the Norris-LaGuardia phase but said Judge Goldsborough had the right to issue his restraining order—and demand obedience to it—until he had decided whether the Norris-LaGuardia Act did apply. Justice Jackson stated the same view in a brief partial dissent to the majority opinion.

Tank Truck Hits Deer; Snarls Traffic

Warren, Pa., March 7 (AP)—A tank truck hit and killed a deer just west of here yesterday and tied up traffic on the highway for several hours.

The deer's body became entangled in the front wheels of the tractor-trailer. The truck ran into a ditch and jack-knifed across the road. The driver, Norman Redfoot of Erie, was unhurt.

ADMITS EARLY UNTRUTH ABOUT JOHNSON CASE

By MARTIN BRACKBILL

Harrisburg, Pa., March 7 (AP)—A government witness admitted at the conspiracy trial of former federal Judge Albert W. Johnson that he told "an untruth" to a grand jury about his connections with the 74-year-old former jurist and one of his sons.

The witness—Robert Michael, of Clarks Summit, Pa.—former trustee of the Central Forging Company of Catawissa, Pa., told a U. S. District court jury trying the former jurist and five others "I had the choice of being an informer or telling an untruth and I chose to tell an untruth."

Michael testified yesterday the perjury occurred in August, 1944 when he first appeared before the special grand jury which indicted former Judge Johnson, his sons—Miller A. Donald M., and Capt. Albert W. Jr.—and Jacob Greenes and John Memolo on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice and defraud the United States. All six have pleaded innocent.

Quizzed By Defense

Questioned closely by Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for the Johnsons, about his testimony at the trial and before the grand jury, Michael admitted he made incorrect statements in 1944 with the aim of keeping "Donald Johnson's name out of the investigation."

"Did Donald Johnson ask you to do that?" Margiotti asked.

Michael replied: "No." Margiotti asked the questions after reading a statement Michael made before the grand jury in 1944 that he had never discussed his possible appointment as trustee of the Central Forging Company with anyone except former Judge Johnson.

Censure from Court

On the other hand, he told the trial jury here that Donald Johnson had advised him "to contact Judge Johnson" in connection with an expected vacancy in the trusteeship late in 1941. He was named by the former judge to the post on Jan. 2, 1942.

In another development, U. S. District Judge James Alger Fee, of Portland, Ore., specially presiding at the trial, directed the government to "have its case better organized and have some witnesses" ready to testify.

While Special Assistant U. S. Attorney General Max H. Goldschtein was reading a lengthy petition for

Your Income Tax Return

YOUR 1947 TAX ESTIMATE

(Editor's note: This is the eleventh of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his income tax returns.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 7 (AP)—March 15 is the deadline for filing a final return on 1946 income and paying whatever tax is still due.

Most people, when they've done that, won't have anything further to do until March 15, 1948, when they settle up on 1947 taxes. That's because most people make under $5,000 and full 1947 tax will be withheld from wages and salaries under $5,000 in 1947.

But several million people won't have the full tax—or any tax—withheld from them in 1947. That's because:

They'll make over $5,000 or will have the kind of income from which tax isn't withheld.

So March 15 will be a deadline for them, too. By that date—

They must file an estimate of their 1947 tax and make the first of four payments on the difference between the tax withheld (if any) and the estimated full 1947 tax. (The other three payments are due June 15, receivers for the Williamsport Wire Rope company to the jury, Judge Fee previously broke in to ask "are you reading this because you have run out of witnesses?"

Goldschtein said the government had another witness present but the petition was "sufficiently important for the jury" to hear it all.

"It is just a mass of legal verbiage," the judge commented.

Sept. 15, and Jan. 15, 1948).

Three Kinds of People

Three kinds of people will have to do this. You're one of them—

1. If your income from wages or salary in 1947 will be more than $5,000, plus $500 for each exemption besides your own.

Example: You, married, will have a $5,500 salary. Full tax is withheld up to $5,000, plus each exemption except your own. You claim a $500 exemption for your wife. You don't have to file an estimate.

Example: You, married, one child, will have a $7,000 salary. Full tax is withheld up to $6,000 in your case, because of those two $500 exemptions for your wife and child.

You'll have to file an estimate and start paying the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax due on $7,000.

2. If you expect to make $500 or more income from which no tax is withheld—such as a landlord with rents or a doctor with fees—you'll have to file an estimate of your total 1947 income and the tax on it and start paying the tax.

3. If you'll have income of more than $100 from which no tax is withheld—in addition to income from which tax is withheld—and if the two incomes total $500 or more—you'll have to file an estimate and make the first payment on the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax due.

Example Cited

Example: You'll make $4,000 in wages from which tax is withheld, but you'll get an additional $101 from renting a room.

Where husband and wife both have income, one cannot use the other's exemption in deciding whether filing an estimate is necessary.

Example: The husband's salary will be $5,100, his wife's will be $75. Since she has income, the husband can't claim an exemption for her.

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP)—The death rate in the United States has dropped one-third in the past six years, but is still not under control, Dr. J. R. Heller, Jr., of the U. S. Public Health Service, reported. Dr. Heller, chief of Federal Venereal Disease control, addressed venereal disease clinicians attending a seminar here yesterday on the treatment of syphilis.

So he must file an estimate on his income which is over $5,000.

(His wife doesn't have to file an estimate because her income will be under $500.)

If husband and wife both have incomes large enough to require an estimate, both must make it, separately or jointly.

At the end of 1947 they can decide whether they want to make their final return jointly or separately.

Can File Later

If you don't have to file an estimate now—but later in the year find that you do because of income changes or other reasons—you can file an estimate by the next payment date, June 15, Sept. 15, Jan. 15, 1948.

You don't have to correct your estimates during 1947 unless you find they're underestimated by more than 20 per cent.

Farmers don't have to make an estimate on 1947 income or make any payment until Jan. 15, 1948.

Congress is expected to reduce taxes in 1947. That's in the future. Right now you must obey the law and file an estimate, if you should.

Later you'll be able to change your estimate, if Congress reduces taxes this year.

The information in today's story won't be repeated tomorrow, so keep this if you're going to fill out an estimated tax return.

(Saturday: Filling out the estimated tax form.)

Receive Bids For Roll Call System

Harrisburg, March 7 (AP)—Three bids have been received for installation of an electric roll call system in the state house of representatives, the department of property and supplies announced.

C. M. Woolworth, department secretary, named the bidders as Howard P. Foley Co., Pittsburgh, $53,450; Electric Research-Metal products, Conyngham, $64,800, and American Signal Corp., Harrisburg, $71,920.

Woolworth rejected last year's bids, claiming they were too high. An appropriation of $75,000 was made by the 1945 legislature for installation of the system.

Waynesboro Jaycees To Receive Award

Sucher, state President, announced today. The award, given annually to the jaycee chapter showing the greatest project activity and growth, will be presented to the Waynesboro group at a meeting there on March 22, 23, Sucher said.

LITTLESTOWN HI STUDENTS BUSY WITH ACTIVITIES

"Crack-up" is the title of the three-act drama that has been chosen by the Junior class of the Littlestown high school as their class play this year. The play is said to be one of the most exciting and absorbing stories ever presented by a local class. The performance will be given in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, March 28, at 8 p.m. The author of the play is Arthur Jearue.

The cast of characters is as follows: "Helen Cooper," a widow, Brenda Walker; "Faith," her daughter, Lorraine Myers; "Guthrie," her grown son, Harold Hockensmith; "Nancy Foreman," their housekeeper, Bessie Good; "Garvey Brannon," Faith's fiancé, Robert King; "Merle Brannon," Garvey's sister, Doris Renner; "Henry Lewis, M.D.," Herman Boyd; "Martha Wentworth," Helen's spinster sister, Dolores Dayhoff; "Allan Shelton," a member of the F.B.I., Paul Bowers, and "Marjory Field" the girl Garvey marries, Elizabeth Lippy.

The play is principally a romance and the story of a girl who is crippled on her wedding day, and becomes a bitter recluse only to find hope and happiness in the end. Throughout all this is a sub-plot, the story of a young man's downfall and heroic regeneration when the happiness of someone he loves is at stake.

Plan Junior Prom
The Iowa tests of educational achievement were given to every student at Littlestown high school a few weeks ago. They were given under the supervision of the faculty, and required one and one-half days of actual working time. At a later date a report of the results will be received and tabulated.

Announce Honor Rolls
Twenty-three students were listed on the first and second honor rolls for the second term. Those included on the first honor roll were: Seniors, Shirley Matthias, Hylda Klinefelter, Dorothy Reindollar, Doris Spangler, and Doris Conover;

Juniors, Bessie Good, Joyce Myers, Lorraine Myers, and Mervin Myers; sophomores, Albert Stock and Jane Bowers; freshmen, Richard Wolfe, Alma Reaver, Jean Wolfe, Earl Humbert, Evelyn Harget, and Betty King. Students on the second honor roll were: Seniors, Arveta Feaser and Shirley Spangler; sophomores, Marion Stavely and Joann Wehler; freshmen, Loyse Waitman and Charlotte Yingling.

Requirements needed to receive a place on the first honor roll are that the student receive a majority of A's and no grade less than a B. To be listed on the second honor roll a student must have at least one A and no grade below B.

Working On Yearbook
Members of the Senior class have begun work on their yearbook, "The Littletonian", and considerable progress has already been made. The staff has been selected and consists of Shirley Spangler, editor-in-chief; Hylda Klinefelter, assistant; Shirley Mackley, activity editor; Arveta Feaser, photographic editor; Robt. Scholl, sports editor; and John Rebert, business manager. The book is beginning to take form, and it is planned to have it on sale in May. The book will contain individual pictures and personal write-ups of each senior, also pictures of the various classes and different school organizations, such as the band, glee club, and basketball teams.

The students of the high and grade school contributed generously to the March of Dimes fund for children with infantile paralysis. The combined total for the two schools was $47.62, with the high school contributing $20.07 of that amount. This is more than twice the amount collected last year. For two days the candy case was closed, and the students gave the money they might have spent to this worthy cause.
